READERSHIP STUDY #3
OF THE DAILY ILLINI
URBANA, ILLINOIS

Conducted by Students in Community Journalism,
School of Journalism, University of Illinois

* * * *

THE DAILY ILLINI

The DAILY ILLINI is published primarily for the student body of the University. It is a morning daily published five days a week. The editorial, advertising, and business management is handled by students.

The ILLINI competes with two local evening papers for advertising, but not for circulation coverage. Carrier delivery is restricted to the immediate student housing area, all other is by mail.

METHOD OF THIS STUDY

In this study, 101 women and 156 men were interviewed. All persons interviewed were either students, faculty members, or University non-academic staff members, in ratio to the total number of readers in each group.

Each person interviewed was given a fresh copy of the paper and asked to indicate which stories, advertisements, etc., he had read. If the interviewee indicated that he had read through at least the first paragraph, the story was checked as read.

In addition to the above, the following questions were among those asked:

1. How much time did you spend reading the paper?
2. Which story, in this issue, interested you most?

The survey reveals that readership by women was only slightly higher than by men, and that men spent more time reading the full issue. (Women averaged 15.6 minutes--Men 17.8 minutes.)

BEST READ STORIES

These were the ten best-read news stories in this issue:

	Men %	Women %
Tilden's Entrant (P.1).....	63.5	72.3
Train Brings First European (P.1).....	54.5	54.5
Finalist Chosen for IF Queen (P.1).....	12.8	62.4
Income Tax Men (P.1).....	39.7	23.8
Convocation Topics (P.1).....	34.0	34.0
Crosby to Judge (P.1).....	55.1	64.4
Bills to Outlaw (P. 1).....	50.6	22.8
Bob Hope (P.1).....	45.5	44.6
Filibuster Ends (P.3).....	40.4	25.8
Surgeon Reports (P.5).....	40.4	25.8

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2011 with funding from University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign

Only two stories, chosen as the most interesting, were picked by more than 15 readers. The men chose 36 different stories, and the women 29. This indicates that the material published in the ILLINI is varied and interesting enough to satisfy the taste of all readers.

Most interesting article read:

Women	No.	Men	No.
Train Brings European....	26	Train Brings European....	28
Tilden's Entrant.....	17	Scout Column.....	16
Scout Column.....	10	Tilden's Entrant.....	12
Finalist Chosen.....	6	Bills to Outlaw.....	11
Laz.....	5	Elliot Says.....	8

EDITORIAL PAGE

The editorial page had good readership. Perhaps many of the readers are attracted to this page by the Scout Column (local humor). The Scout shows a readership of 66.7 for men and 67.4 for women.

Local editorials have a readership of 40 per cent in contrast to that of the nationally syndicated column (men 26.3, women 11.9).

ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertising space in the ILLINI is open to all legitimate business and the paper prints a fair volume of advertising. The following advertisements were the best read:

	Men %	Women %
O Mistress Mine (P.7).....	51.3	51.5
Rialto Theater (P.7).....	44.9	59.4
Hamlet (P.7).....	48.1	50.5
Classified (P.7).....	40.4	40.6
Robeson's (P.2).....	23.7	64.4
Overgard's (P.4).....	48.1	28.7
Chicago Tribune (P.5).....	33.3	35.7
Old Gold (P.3).....	35.3	29.7
Convocation Lecture (P.1).....	19.2	24.8
U. S. Recruiting (P.5).....	20.5	17.8

These figures are an indication of student taste. The theaters occupy the most prominent place in the table of percentages with classified next, and department and clothing following closely.

The pictures published with captions had a readership of 52 per cent for men and 58.7 for women. The local cartoon on page two had the highest readership of anything in the paper (men 75.6, women 73.3).

Forensics, UWF Debate Change In UN System

By FRED CLEER
That the United Nations should be revised into a world federal government was the resolution debated last night at the annual meeting of the Illinois Forensic Society at the University of Wisconsin. The affirmative proposed an amendment to the UN charter, revising it into a world federal government made up of delegates selected by the people of the various nations. Ulmer, speaking for the negative, said governments are developed, not made, and that complete trust and backing must be accorded the United Nations for eventual success in maintaining peace. The meeting was opened to the audience for questions and further discussion. At the close of the meeting, a final vote was taken on the resolution. The negative won the debate by a narrow margin.

University Offers Garden Plots to Vets; Horticulture Department to Supervise

Student veterans interested in having a garden may sign up at the office of the department of horticulture, 105 Memorial hall, today through March 28. The department is offering garden plots to veterans who are unable to do so on their own. The plots are located in the area of Memorial stadium. A few plots 27 by 70 feet will be located north of the dairy barn. In addition to keeping gardens free of weeds and well kept, gardeners must agree to the following regulations:
1. Only veterans are eligible. (Those on more than three-fourths time on staff or faculty are not eligible).
2. Only students who are sure of remaining in Champaign Urbana until Sept. 1 or later should register.
3. Those undertaking the project should have sufficient time and be willing to carry through a well kept garden.
4. The rental fee is $3. It may be paid at the bureau's office after March 28.

O'Dwyer Lashes Out at Reformers; Phone Tapping Probe Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer yesterday lashed out at reform forces fighting him in the city, continuing his protest against the phone tapping probe.
"I have not been interested in power for themselves," O'Dwyer said. "I have been interested in the city for the second straight day."
But he was much less communicative to newsmen than Monday, when he renewed the blasts at the O'Dwyer administration that have marked the fusion movement in recent weeks. He has denied he was involved in the wiretapping.
District Attorney Frank S. Hogan broadened the inquiry, issuing subpoenas for several other witnesses including two New Jersey private investigators.
Ryan said Monday that some people were risking their lives to slip out information on the city administration.

ASAE Hears Dubin Talk on Problems Facing Engineers

Engineering training is for most professionally trained engineers a prelude to some other type of work, according to a speaker at the ASAE meeting in labor and industry.
Dubin, a professional engineer, said the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers Monday night in 211 Agricultural Engineering.
Success of these engineers who have been professionally trained and who have gone into related fields, depends upon talents of organization and the ability to see a problem, said Dubin.
The professional engineer must be able to present problems to other groups. Dubin also pointed out that it is not uncommon for industry to take the attitude that technical brains can be bought from any school.

Council Postpones Parking Action

Action at yesterday's meeting of the Champaign city council on the acquisition of two Main street lots as motor vehicle parking was postponed until the next meeting of the council.
Contract for the purchase of one lot for $15,000 and the other for $15,000 and the purchase of the other lot from Joseph Kuhn and Company will be signed when Fisher returns, according to Commissioner.

STILLWELL GETS AERO POST
Helen S. Stillwell, head of the department of aeronautics, has been named as the new head of the department of aeronautics.
Sigfred Pedersen, assistant city engineer, has surveyed the two lots and has presented the data to the city engineer John T. Kearns for estimates on the cost of the facing, draining and lighting the properties. Clinsard reported the lots to be practically level and said they will present no major drainage difficulties.

Filibuster Ends as GOP, Southern Demos Agree

15 Month Extension of Rent Control Accepted with Home Rule Feature

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House yesterday voted a 15-month extension of rent controls with a "home rule" feature. The bill, passed 281 to 153 by the House, now goes to the Senate where administration men will renew their fight. Action on a Senate version has been blocked because of the Senate filibuster. On final House passage 199 Democrats were joined by 61 Republicans and one American Laborite in support of the 15-month extension. Opposing were 101 Republicans and 22 Democrats.

Administration leaders vigorously fought the "home rule" amendment, proposed by Representative Williams (D-Miss.), but it carried 227 to 189 on a roll call.

Danish Minister Approves Pact

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Denmark's foreign minister strongly indicated yesterday that he would urge that his country become a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Foreign Minister Hans Christian Andersen stated in a five-day investigation into the pact with a farewell call on Secretary of State Acheson.

The Danish diplomat said he had been given "frank and friendly" answers to all the questions he raised about Denmark's possible benefits and responsibilities under the alliance.

Denmark's entry into the Atlantic alliance would be specially welcome to the United States and other member countries because it would greatly facilitate the military defense of northern Europe.

Denmark not only helps control the approaches to the Baltic sea, but owns the big island of Greenland, the site of many valuable air and weather bases during the last war.

Drive to Push Compromise Through Senate Planned

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 15-day Dixie filibuster in the U. S. Senate ended with dramatic suddenness yesterday. Southern Democrats agreed to open to the Senate its sponsors felt certain of success, since they had 52 senators—more than the required majority—already signed up.

But the plan was subject to debate and Truman Democrats may have plenty to say before a vote can be taken.

They want a change in the Senate rules so that a two-thirds majority of those voting can end filibusters on any question. They want this as an opening wedge for the passage of civil rights legislation.

Coal Strike Causes Railroad to Drop 1,300 Employees

CHICAGO — (AP) — More than 1,300 Illinois employees of major railroads operating in the state will be out of work because of the U. S. coal strike.

A survey of Illinois railroads reported they have enough coal to operate their trains, but that their traffic shipments of coal have been greatly cut. Crews that normally haul coal trains, have been laid off along with maintenance personnel.

The Gulf, Mobile and Ohio, the Milwaukee, the Rock Island and the Chicago and North Western said however, that none of their employees has been dismissed yet and that they have no prospect for immediate layoffs. The Monon, operating largely to Indiana coal fields, said it does not expect to lay train crews by more than ten men.

Chief Wants Pal, Senate Doesn't For Key Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators yesterday blackballed a former colleague, Mon C. Wallgren, for appointment to a key post.

By a 47-34 vote, the Senate rejected the nomination of Wallgren, a personal friend of the national security resources board.

The committee's action was a severe rebuff to Mr. Truman and marked another major setback in his repeated tests of strength with Congress in 1948 he was forced to withdraw the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley to be secretary of the navy in the face of unrelenting Senate opposition to the oil man's appointment to the cabinet.

A southern Democratic Senator, Byrd (D-Va.), tipped the scales against the one time senator and former governor of the State of Washington.

Byrd joined with the six Republican committee members in voting to reject Wallgren for the $14,000 a year chairmanship.

Britain on Economic Road to Recovery, Cripps Reports

LONDON — (AP) — Sir Stafford Cripps reported yesterday Britain is well on the road to recovery.

The chairman of the British mission in the U. S. said the country remains how to get the economy back on its feet.

Through a 30,000-word "economic survey for 1949" published yesterday as a white paper, Cripps played on the theme that Britain can and must be earning those dollars by the time American aid under the European recovery program ends in 1952.

Cripps has completed "a year of great and steady progress," his survey said. "Output increased in every important industry."

Mystery Blaze Causes $1,000,000 Loss in California Waterfront Warehouse

OAKLAND, Calif. — A mysterious fire at midnight Monday caused damage estimated at $1,000,000 in a huge warehouse on the waterfront.

Disputed whether the fire was caused by a person or persons, the blaze destroyed several buildings and caused the loss of a large amount of property.

An army spokesman said one unidentified civilian, found near the fire, was being held for FBI questioning after it was found he carried newspaper clippings of several recent fires.

After questioning FBI agents released the man, saying there was no evidence he had any connection with the fire.

The 1,000-foot warehouse, one of several at the vast Oakland army base was piled high with supplies for Okinawa and Japan.

Several witnesses said the fire seemed to burst out in the entire west end of the pier, that as they watched, a seething sheet of flame shot across the ceiling and in a minute enveloped the huge structure.

Only one warehouse was lost as firemen concentrated on saving the other structures in the military installation — one of the largest in the world.

Exploding oil drums poured flaming fuel on the warehouse. The drums, piled 100 to a stack, exploded like shells and rocketed through the air. Lids skimmed over the heads of firemen.

The heat was so intense that firemen reversed the burning building were sprayed by others farther back so they could hold their positions.

Orphans Cared For

Mrs. Nalewaj told how she took care of four orphan children, the youngest nine months old, during the voyage. Their mother died shortly before the family was to leave for America. Mrs. Nalewaj's own daughter died shortly before the war.

The Russian problem is nothing new to Nalewaj. His home has always been near the Russian border, and there was always some trouble he said. If it weren't for that, he said, he probably would still be there.

Nalewaj proudly displayed a medal and citation from the American army occupation forces for his work in commanding a labor battalion in Germany. Nalewaj was a captain the regular Polish army until Poland's fall in 1918.

Rev. O'Rourke Welcomes

The Rev. Edward O'Rourke, assistant chaplain of St. John's chapel and chairman of the displaced persons committee of the Peoria diocese, was also among the party that welcomed the Polish couple to Champaign. He said the Nalewajs were the fortieth arrival in the Peoria area, and that 350 applications for displaced persons have been made.

Mrs. Nalewaj's happiness faltered only once when she realized none of the local priests would be able to understand her confession, when she was assured everything could be arranged, he said, returned and the new Champaign residents drove the last few miles to their new home with Mr. and Mrs. Nalewaj.

STUDENT ARCHITECTS ON SPOT

Tomorrow a group of architecture students will travel to Springfield to suggest some changes in a proposed amendment to the Illinois act now being studied by the legislature.

The proposed amendment would require three years of experience for college graduates before they can take an architect's license. At present only one year's experience is required.

The amendment of house bill 150 would mean, for many students, a complete change in plans which have been planned upon the original act.

Many students have virtually completed their education based on the provisions of the present law which requires one year's work after graduation with a registered architect. Now, without time to adjust plans and decisions, the student architects find they need two more years of experience.

Veterans have an added argument if they had not been in service they would have graduated under the present one-year law. If house bill 150 is passed in its present form the veteran will be delayed another two years in his career.

There seems to be little argument about the basic idea behind the bill. The profession in general agrees that longer periods of practical experience are becoming necessary. Illinois is one of the few states that require only one year of experience before professional tests can be taken.

The house committee now considering the bill could still make allowances for college students who have already started their education with the understanding they would take state licensing tests after one year's work. It is unfair to submit a bill for passage that arbitrarily draws a line without regard to those most vitally affected.

One suggestion that has been offered is to provide that the original law will still apply to all architectural students who began college training prior to the enactment of the amendment to house bill 150.

This provision would keep faith with the students who based plans on the legal requirements that were recognized when they began their training.

The amendment as it stands now in effect discriminates against present student architects. In order to be fair to everyone, the house committee would do well to consider the proposal to exempt from the proposed changes students whose training was begun under the one-year law.

CHUCK

ARAR

By CHUCK WENK
News Item—"Forecasting, perhaps, a new era in the reporting of crime news, legislation is being urged in the state of Washington to require newspaper reporters, wire services, and radio newsmen to adhere rigidly to the facts in their reporting, and to hand out all stories about murder cases."

Perhaps the most outstanding murder of 1949—at least from the standpoint of newspaper readers and radio news fans was the case involving Robert J. Key, of Weaville, Washington.

Key, a bank worker, was shot twice, stabbed three times and also had apparently been poisoned.

Key, who worked as night janitor at the First National bank, was not identified as a "banker" or even as a "prominent citizen." The Consolidated News painstakingly pointed out that he worked on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday night.

The evening newspaper cautiously suggested that "death was not believed due to natural causes."

The murderer, morning newspapers discovered had fled from the scene in a LOW-powered car.

Barry Stuart, impulsive young newscaster for station UDUZ, who carelessly alluded to the lethal weapon as a "smoking revolver," was called upon by the station management to prove that the revolver had actually smoked; and upon his failure to do so, was promptly transferred to the Story Book Hour.

Not a single staff writer alluded to the search for the murderer as a "grim, relentless, maddening" "No one 'combed the city' or 'scoured' highways and byways, and the 'police dragnet' collected dust at the rear of the police station. Recounting details of the search, the Evening Clarion reported that actually only two officers had remained up after bedtime, and that these two had gone to a place called 'Joe's Hamburger' and each had ordered a bottle of beer and a ham on rye.

A heavily veiled woman appeared at the sheriff's office. Said the Evening Standard, "She was only complaining about the barking of a neighbor's dog."

Mrs. Sara Bodine, who sells eggs from door to door, called at the Key home and talked with officers. She was not called a "mysterious caller" or the "mysterious egg woman." The Morning Bulletin bluntly stated, "There is little prospect that she had valuable information." Ward teen mood reporter Jack Ferguson to his paper, "She is asking forty cents a dozen."

A hundred representative newspaper readers, asked what they thought of the Key murder case, replied, "Hubb!"

RIDDING THE TRAIN

I'm through taking the train home. I'll just stay here and rot. One essential codicil of nature is—just how independent can you get without getting arrested?

The gal I am after is the one who barged into the 3:35 out of Chicago started to the cars with handbag and cosmetic grips. She dumped a bit of it onto a vacant seat, some on the floor, some into the aisle, and stacked the rest on the overhead rack.

She peeled off her coat, removed her hat, and pushed the back of the next seat forward. They were the only two remaining seats. I stood there watching her—with about 13 other passengers who were slowly crumpling under the load of their baggage. She was now the sole proprietor of a double sofa that would normally accommodate four people at high tide—but she and her luggage took up all the room.

She sorted and classified her junk until chaos was epidemic and comfort was a snare and a delusion. The tiring 13 of us were swarmed bee-size in the aisle, gasping with flaming rosy at this two-wheeled monstrosity. Her feet were up on the second seat, her elbows were unfettered, her luggage was rampant and her indifference untrammelled.

She railed due to her acumen in stung up the transportation situation and getting there fastest with the most. (Nice word—acumen. Spring is acumen season.)

We were forced to retire to the men's lounge for the rest of the trip. Two undernourished ladies also took seats in the lounge out of sheer desperation. During the trip, several male passengers walked hurriedly into the lounge, looked about, stared into the mirror and examined their teeth, and then wheeled around and out mumbling under their breath.

As a southerner, I would like to add that higher minimum wages for working people is one of the solutions to economic problems in the South.

Barden upbraided Lesinski for not inviting him to off the record caucuses on minimum wage strategy.

I resent your dictatorial attitude—the way you're trying to put this legislation over behind our backs," Barden challenged. As ranking majority member of this committee, I had a right to be called in and told what is going on."

Brothers, sisters, and other close relatives of patients are not admitted as visitors at McKinley hospital. Reason? There are too many beds on campus. This was the reason given by the superintendent of the hospital.

Other local hospitals can permit patients to receive student visitors, there is no justifiable reason why McKinley cannot relax its rules, at least to the extent of allowing close relatives to visit patients.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The North Atlantic pact, most important international agreement since President Monroe set forth the Monroe doctrine, will be made public later this week. The pact was negotiated by the United States, Great Britain, and the United States.

In this huge area, no aggressor nation, in the present instance presumably Russia, can attack any ship, airplane, or territory of the North Atlantic allies without automatically incurring the joint opposition of all the other allies.

Furthermore, should Russia attack U. S. forces in the American zone of Berlin, the other signatory nations would be obligated to side with the United States. Actually, the American zone of Berlin is not mentioned in the treaty, but it is included in the geographical area.

Also included in the geographical area is most of Mexico and French North Africa.

The pact does not call for an automatic declaration of war. Furthermore, it preserves the structure of the United Nations and provides for consultation under it. Nevertheless, article 5, the most important part of this historical treaty, states categorically:

"The parties agree that an armed attack upon any one of the signatories constitutes an armed attack upon all, whether the attack takes place in Europe or North America."

Article 7 also states: "If such an attack takes place, each will exercise the right of self-defense recognized by international law and each party to the agreement will act under article 51 of the UN charter to report the attack to the Security Council and go to the defense of each other."

"An armed attack," it is also stated, "means any intrusion on the territory of any nation in Europe or in North America."

SUMMARY OF PACT

A brief summary of the historic treaty follows:

Jester Predicts Good Chance For CHS to Win Bracket

By AL SCHNEIDER
There's a great similarity between the situation facing the Chicago Hawks and the Illinois Jesters in the first round of the Big Ten basketball tournament. Both teams are in the same position, and both are expected to win their respective brackets.

This year proved to be the same, with an upset by Potomac paving the way past the Danville game and on into the state on a 35 to 21 win over the Artisans in the tourney in '48, the Maroons dropped their first contest to a good East

Elgin's Tourney Trip Breaks Old Jinx

By BOB NOVAK
When the Elgin Maroons rallied in the second half last Friday to edge Oak Park 45 to 42, they temporarily erased a jinx that has haunted the Hawks since 1937. For 11 years, the Maroons have been unable to win a game in the state tournament.

Kraft, slender basketball wizard of the Big Ten conference, first began to feel a persecution complex in 1946. Led by the hard-driving tactics of speedy Wally Graf, now a regular at the University of Nevada, the Maroons were probably the best balanced squad in the state.

January Peak
Elgin hit its peak that January against East Rockford, its biggest rival in the conference. The Maroons clinched final victory in the drama of Elgin gym. Four regulars, including Graf, graduated at midyear to spoil the smooth working combination.

The following season the Watchmakers were again at the top of the heap. Floor play by Bill "Red" Famey, only returning regular from the powerhouse of a year previous and the shooting of Bill Sundstage, leading scorer of the conference, played Elgin on a plane with nearby Dundee as favorites for a state crown.

Once again Elgin appeared with power this year, perhaps a even stronger than its recent predecessors. With 6-2 Bob Surfant leading up the plays and 6-7 Bob Peterson making them pay off in an all-state duel, the road to Champaign looked clear enough.

But the jinx struck even harder than usual. First, a tragic auto crash that meant the death of popular assistant coach Spencer Morris, the hospitalization of Kraft, and two regulars, and general lockdown of team morale. Next, the temporary loss of big Peterson, near Big B record holder, because of measles—an abject defeat that meant three defeats. And finally, the toughest tournament draw in Illinois.

Elgin has to defeat an increasingly tougher pattern of competition. The Maroons have edged by such powers as Arlington Heights, Dundee, DeKalb, and finally Oak Park, considered to be the hottest outfit in the state, in rapid succession by distracting close scores.

Not End Yet
But the end has not yet come. The mood morning live has four big games yet to win. Then Coach Kraft will know that the jinx has finally been defeated.

Playoff to Decide 3-Way Deadlock In IM League 9

By STANLEY FREEMAN
Kappa Alpha Psi victory over Phi Epsilon 9, 35 to 24, coupled with Sigma Nu triumph over Phi Kappa Phi, 22 to 16, in the last game of the IM League 9, has created a three-way deadlock.

Tomorrow is the day, 8:45 p.m. is the time, and Huff gym is the place where the Maroons will get a chance to prove that their confidence is well-deserved. While the Hillboro season's state of 22-0 is much more impressive than the CHS lineup of 17 wins and 11 losses, the Maroons will be figuring on a definite height advantage Thursday.

Height Advantage
Champaign's tallest man, center George Shapland, will be equaled by Hilltopper forward, 6-3 Dick Sturgeon, but the other starters for the southerners crew don't scale up to the local's 6-1 average.

Conference Rules Navy Pier Gymnasts Out of Big 9, NCAA Tournaments

By MORRIS BENCHLOSS
The fortunes of Illinois' gymnasts have been a severe jolt today by a conference ruling prohibiting them from competing in the Big Nine and NCAA tournaments.

Despite the news that these men won't compete, gym coach Charlie Pond received glad tidings in the form of eligibility for trampolinist Les Farris.

Farris, a sophomore who has not yet participated in college competition, was almost the equal of Gay Hughes in pre-season workouts.

However, scholastic difficulties kept him from becoming eligible until this time. His addition should give the team more scoring punch in the trampoline and better balance for the coming tournaments.

Although several good gymnasts are present on the pier squad, the strength of the team boils down pretty well to Bill Rothheim and Jay Bedford. Both are nothing short of terrific and their accomplishments read like a Who's who in national gymnastics.

As a 19-year-old freshman last year, Rothheim took the AAU high bar title and second place in that event in the NAAT, he copied 3rd place in the side horse. Besides this, he won high bar and parallel bar titles in the Northwest championship and won the all-around in the Western Conference-Open Meet.

He also achieved distinction as the youngest member on the US Olympic team.

Bedford's achievements are equally spectacular. Also a freshman last year, he won NAAT Central AAU, Western Conference-Open and Northwest tumbling champion.
